

SNOWY MOUNTAINS AND COUNTRY NEW SOUTH WALES

Take a journey to Country New South Wales and discover spectacular landscapes, classic outback towns, and good old fashioned country hospitality.

To the far west of New South Wales is Broken Hill with a strong mining heritage and vibrant arts community, the locals are friendly and the landscapes are fascinating. Join a tour and let the local guides show you the very best of the outback.

Orange is a quaint town with outstanding regional cuisine and wine showcased by the local cafés and restaurants. Check out from the farmers markets held in the showground on the second Saturday of each month.

Wagga Wagga, the largest inland city in New South Wales, is located 470 kilometres south-west of Sydney. Experience a vibrant artistic community and café culture.

Six hours drive south of Sydney is Albury, sitting beside the iconic Murray River and nestled amongst a collection of historic villages.
